Extended Center Column

The center column consists of four extendable sections, allowing for significant height customization and stability. You have complete control over adjusting the height to meet your specific needs. The stand is equipped with a double-locking knob design for enhanced security and stability during use. The height of the stand can be freely adjusted to suit various usage scenarios without restrictions. It features a robust locking mechanism that provides substantial force to ensure the stand remains securely in position.

High Quality Material

The legs of the stand are made from a durable aluminum alloy, ensuring a lightweight yet sturdy support structure. It features a thickened 12mm steel tray coated with anti-rust paint to enhance durability and longevity. The aluminum alloy used in the legs is of low density, which contributes to the stand's lightweight nature without compromising strength. Despite its low density, the aluminum alloy offers high strength, supporting heavy loads and providing reliable stability. A densely packed sponge is included under the tray for added protection and durability, ensuring the device placed on it is cushioned against impacts. An elastic bandage is integrated on the edge of the tray to secure devices and prevent slipping or movement during use.
